WILDCRAFTING

Join outdoor educational specialist Dave Kretzschmar for this wonderful program. Participants will learn to use their hands and various tools as they create traditional handicrafts from a variety of natural materials. Projects may include tanning hides, weaving baskets and mats, making archery bows and arrows, working with clay, fiber, stone, wood and natural cordage. Check in with Parks & Recreation as we work out the final details of this great program starting this fall.

RUCKING

Become part of Sandpoint's first rucking group! Inspired by the military practice of "going for a ruck" rucking is the idea of strapping on a pack with some weight in it, and going for a walk.

While the basic concept is simple, the goal is to work up to heavier and heavier weights, and to work with your rucking group to accomplish exciting physical challenges. Sandpoint's rucking group will begin in September, and will train through the winter with the goal of competing in an organized rucking challenge in June of 2018. Like Outside 7B or Sandpoint Parks & Recreation Facebook pages to keep up to date as more details are available.
